(3) Because he has had a successful experience of 14 years in the school room.

(4) Because he has contributed the past 10 years of his experience to the upbuilding of your Wood County schools especially the rural schools.

A DEAD BODY
FOUND IN RIVER

The dead body of a man was found in the Wisconsin river about a mile above the city on Tuesday afternoon. It was evident from the appearance of the body that the man had been dead for some time, and it is supposed that he was drowned last fall or winter.

The body was found by Andrew Mosher and Tom Laramie. They were up river that day looking for some plank, and on their way up saw the body frozen in the ice that had formed the night before, but supposed at the time that it was a bunch of old clothes, or something of the sort. When they returned at night they passed the place again, and upon examining the object, found that it was the body of a man.

The authorities in this city were notified of the circumstances and a number of men went to the place, when the body was taken from the river and brought to this city and placed in the undertaker's rooms of J. R. Ragau.

Among those who viewed the remains were Lawrence Shadkowsky, who pronounced the man to be a cousin of his, Tom Shadkowsky by name, formerly a resident of Sigel, where his father still lives. The father, Peter Shadkowsky, was at once notified of the finding of the body, and it is expected he will be in today to assist in identifying the remains.

Tom Shadkowsky disappeared on the 22d of September, 1909, and at the time nothing much was thought of the matter, as he was in the habit of leaving at any time the notion struck him. He had been here in the city on the 12th of September, and went from here to Biron where he was working in the mill. The last seen of him at Biron was on the 22d of the same month. It is hardly supposed that he fell in the river at that time, as there would have been nothing much left of the body by this time.

It may be possible, of course, that the body came down from up river somewhere. He was evidently a man of 30 or 35 years, smooth face, and had on overalls and working man's clothes.

With the Good Templars.

The meeting of Grand Rapids lodge No. 5 I. O. G. T. was called to order Monday night by Past Chief Templar A. D. Hill in the absence of the Chief Templar. Mrs. Ezra Cole acted as financial secretary. All other officers were present. Ballot for new candidates and initiation consumed the hour up to recess, and made a substantial increase in the rapidly growing membership.

It was decided to make arrangements for a "Public Temperance Meeting" to be held April 1st at one of the Grand Rapids churches, at which Bro. J. Martin Skinner of Wauwatosa, Grand Chief Templar of Wisconsin, will be invited to speak.

Several members from Vesper expressed thankfulness to the Grand Rapids Tribune for its kindness in publishing reports of this lodge on various occasions, when they were prevented from attending lodge.

The program of the evening, which was in charge of Miss Lela Jero was entitled "Summer" and is the second to be rendered of the present series representing the four seasons.

Features of the program were the original paper read by Mrs. I. E. Dunaven entitled "Brotherly Love" and the temperance talk delivered by young Bro. Wesley Babcock. The balance of the program included essay "Heap Big Chief Templar" by Miss Lela Steen, Piano duet by Sisters Steen and Jero. Recitation by Bro. Willis Gazeley and a vocal solo by Sister Lela Steen and others.

Recommendation for Candidate for Superintendent of Schools.

To the Editor of the Tribune

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Dear Sir:

I understand that Miss Maude E. Searls is a candidate for the County Superintendent of Wood county. It gives me pleasure to write a few words in support of the cause.

First—It has been demonstrated in many counties of Wisconsin that women are capable of performing the duties of the office of County Superintendent of Schools.

Second—Miss Searls is capable of taking rank with the best of those who have held such positions. She has the educational qualifications needed, being a graduate of the State Normal school at Stevens Point. Furthermore she is a progressive woman, who is continuing the educational work. She has physical strength to endure the hardships which the duties of the county superintendent involve. She has also strength of personality, necessary for leadership.

She has been teaching in one of the largest graded schools of Kenosha and while I am always glad to see a former student of mine advance to larger fields of usefulness and influence, it would cause me regret to have Miss Searls leave the Kenosha schools for it will not be easy to find a teacher of equal ability to take her place.

During my twelve years of service in the Stevens Point Normal, I became interested in Wood county, and remember several seasons of pleasant work in Wood County Institutes. I remember that its educational interests were in good hands knowing Miss Searls as I do, to be an able, earnest woman, and good teacher, I believe that the same educational interests will be safe if committed to her care.

Yours very truly,

Mary D. Bradford,
Supt. of Schools,
Kenosha, Wis.

(Formerly Supervisor of Practice, Stevens Point Normal, 1894-1906)

DISAPPEARANCE OF SEVER JOHNSON.

Sever Johnson, a resident of the east side, has been missing since Saturday night, and notwithstanding that inquiries have been made in all directions, nothing has been heard from him.

The last heard from him was on Saturday night, when he is reported to have been in one of the saloons near the Green Bay depot. He left there about nine o'clock, presumably for home, and has not since been seen.

It was thought at first that he had a considerable sum of money with him, as he had just finished a job of house moving, and the surmise was that some person had followed him and while on his way home, had done away with him for the sake of getting his money.

Subsequent inquiry developed the fact that he had not received the money as had been supposed, so that this theory of his disappearance was abandoned.

Several other theories have been advanced as to the cause of his disappearance, but owing to the lack of anything in the shape of evidence, no information has been obtainable from them.

Up to the present time no information whatever has been gained, and the disappearance of Mr. Johnson remains an absolute mystery.

SEVER

The Marshfield Guernsey Breeders Association held a meeting in this village last Friday at which there was a fairly good attendance. W. R. Burhopp is president of the association. C. W. Porter is secretary and A. C. Anderson and H. D. Walter are officers. The meeting was opened by Mr. Burhopp, who told of the growth and benefits derived from the organization since its organization in 1907.

P. H. Bean of Vesper told of his experience with shorthorn Durhams and of his change to Guernseys some years ago. He now has a fine herd of thirty high grade Guernseys. He advocates community breeding and also showed the benefit of using a pure bred sire with good dams.

Guernsey's will transmit their good qualities more certainly than Durhams. H. D. Walter gave an interesting talk on farming on a small scale, and told how he keeps six cows on six acres, raising all roughage for winter use, hiring pasture during summer with a profit of $50 per cow above expenses. Also showed the benefit of using a pure bred sire. Mr. Walter was a Jersey breeder at one time, but finds the Guernsey to be a larger, hardier and less nervous breed of cattle. He has lived here nine years, and says if he should sell out he would buy again in this association, as he finds it all that anyone could ask for.

A. C. Anderson talked on the economical feeding and profitable production of the Guernsey cow, showing she was the most economical to feed and profitable producer of milk and butter when all breeds were in competition. He told of his trip to Athens in quest of Guernseys and found that grade were selling from $80 to $150 each, while others he could buy for two cents a pound. He also thinks community breeding a good thing and a pure bred sire above all things. C. W. Porter read a letter from Minneapolis inquiring for grade Guernseys, showing that the demand is greater than the production. Mr. Porter talked on raising calves, and said they must be fed early and carefully to develop a good cow, recommends the use of oil meal and prevents scours by clean stables. Also recommends the weighing of all feed and milk.

There was talk of a midsummer meeting and Guernsey breeders picnic at P. H. Bean's farm with good outside speakers. Four new members were taken in, they being W. E. Brooks, W. Elbert, C. E. Edwards and Charles Tomfohede, all of Vesper. Taken altogether the meeting was a most successful one.

Missionary Meeting.

The Ladies Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational church will have their next meeting on Thursday, March 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fontaine. This meeting will be held in the evening beginning

The historic reluctance of Oriental races to indulge in reforms is little understood, but time and experience will explain.

These races are old in experience and in wisdom. Therefore, they are always apprehensive of the ultimate ends to which any reform will reach, says the Detroit News. Japan has advanced rapidly. It enjoys the benefits of a very improved form of government. Out of this change develops a gradual rise in the status of the masses and one of the consequences is a discontent. Alexander II. of Russia emancipated 23,000,000 serfs in the spring of 1861, after giving all landowners and serf masters three years' notice to prepare for the event and setting his own serfs free as an example. In 1881 the sons and daughters of the emancipated serfs, having enjoyed the benefit of education and thereby discovered the wrongs of the past and the oppressions to which the poor were still subject at the hands of the nobles and great land owners, expressed their discontent by killing the emperor who had lifted them to the status of free men and women. Russian discontent was fomented by Mikhael Bakunin, the founder of terrorism in Russia. Japan has her Bakunin in Dr. Katsura, a publicist of discontent. Recently a band of 30 conspirators were arrested upon the charge of plotting against the life of the emperor, and 12 of them have already been executed. These terrible blunders seem to be unavoidable consequences of a change in the status of the people of any nation, but only the superficial observer could condemn all attempts at progress because, in governments as in railroading, they involve a certain element of danger.

Data are regarded as the most dangerous propagators of the bubonic plague that is raging in the East, and the matter has been under consideration by the Russian military authorities east of the Caucasus. They believe in killing off the rats to check the spread of the disease. But some of the methods they propose to employ will arouse the special wonder even of an age which is accustomed to remarkable developments. "The military inspector of the district in question has issued an order in which is set forth 'the hygienic influence of music, as employed by wizards and witches,' and it is remarked that this should not be ignored. In fact, the methods by which rat-catchers can lure their prey from the hiding places are specified, and the order concludes with the assumption that 'it is very possible that among the soldiers of the Caucasian military detachments there are such wizards.' If there is a pianist in the Russian army he may now proceed to get busy.

TROOPS GUARD TOWN

PREVENT PITCHED BATTLE BETWEEN WORKMEN AT BENLD AND GILLESPIE, ILL.

MANY ARRESTS TO FOLLOW

Civil Authorities to Punish Armed Foreigners Who Marched on Village and Made Demonstration Against English Brethren.

Gillespie, Ill.—With soldiers of the Illinois National Guard patrolling the town of Benld, south of here, imminent danger of a pitched battle between Italian coal diggers and the English speaking miners has been averted. The civil authorities are preparing to prosecute those who bore arms Tuesday in a demonstration calculated to awe their brethren who wanted to return to work.

Operations in mine No. 1, located here, and one of the three shafts owned by the Superior Coal company, was resumed Wednesday morning. One company of guardsmen is policing this property.

Sheriff Elmo Etter of Macoupin county is in Benld with a force of 50 men and is operating with Col. Edward J. Lang, commanding the Fourth Infantry of the National Guard. State's Attorney James Murphy of Carlinville is also on the scene, giving the sheriff counsel.

Whole-sale arrests are to follow, according to the state's attorney. Sheriff Etter will not indicate the probable number of arrests to be made, but warrants will be issued for all who are known to have borne arms and against all others who had any part in inciting the riotous demonstration.

The saloons have been closed, although this was not done until Colonel Lang conveyed to Mayor L. C. Romell a suggestion to this effect which was virtually a command.

When it was realized that the petition presented by Mayor Romell to Colonel Lang would not accomplish the desired result a citizens' committee left town for Springfield to personally urge Governor Deneen to call the troops off.

Colonel Lang and Sheriff Etter visited the three mines of the Superior Coal company after camp had been pitched near the interurban railroad station. The reconnaissance completed, patrols were located at the three mines and other patrols assigned to duty in the town of Benld proper.

When the first squad was sent out on patrol duty a large crowd collected, pressing closely upon the guardsmen. Orders were given to disperse the crowd, and in pushing back the crowd, a shot was fired, which struck one of the men with an open knife. The guardsman presented the business end of his rifle with bayonet fixed and charged his would-be assailant. The man fled.

The hurry call for troops followed a demonstration by Italian miners, who were armed with various assortment of firearms, old rifles, muskets, shotguns, revolvers and Winchester, and marching to the music of an Italian band, the foreign speaking coal miners of Benld gathered at sunrise to move against their English speaking brethren of Gillespie.

The Superior Coal company owns three mines here with a daily total output of about 10,000 tons of coal. Three months ago John P. Reese came to Gillespie from Iowa to take the superintendency of the properties. Superintendent Reese inaugurated several changes and reforms that were not favorably received by the foreign elements among the miners. This dissatisfaction led to the trouble.

Members of Mabray Gang Sentenced to Five Months in Prison and Fined $1,000.

Council Bluffs, Ia.—Six of the defendants in the so-called Mabray swindling cases who had pleaded guilty to the charge of swindling, were sentenced to five months' imprisonment in the county jail and to a fine of $1,000 each.

The court left the choice of jails to the United States marshal, but stated that he would not approve of the Council Bluffs jail, as it was not fit for a residence for the prisoners.

There are several other Mabray cases pending.

Assailant Took Colored Man, Who Was Loitering Near Door of Building, for Burglar.

New York.—Because of injuries he received last Sunday night, when he was attacked by a white man, Doctor T. Washington, president of Tuskegee Institute, was unable to attend court Monday, according to his attorney, and the hearing of Albert Ulrich, a carpenter, who was charged with making a felonious assault upon Washington, was postponed. Ulrich was released on a $500 bail.

Ulrich, a white man, maintained that he was acting within his rights when he pursued the negro educator for several blocks before a policeman appeared. Ignorant of the negro's identity, he declared that his wife had complained to him of a negro who had met in the hallway of their flat house in West Sixty-third street.

Dr. Washington, who was sent to Flower hospital, where 15 stitches were taken in his scalp, asserted that his mission to that neighborhood was perfectly legitimate and that he had been made the innocent victim of a most atrocious assault.

Ulrich said he saw the negro re-enter the hallway and later saw him "bending down at my door peering through the keyhole." Ulrich said that the negro swung a blow at his jaw when he asked him what he wanted.

LIMANTOUR IN MEXICO CITY

Wants All to Rally to General Diaz and Avoid International Complications.

Mexico City.—With a warning to all Mexicans that with every day the real danger continues the danger of international complications increases, a plea to them to rally to the support of General Diaz, and a declaration that the government never can enter into peace negotiations with individuals in arms, Finance Minister Jose Yves Limantour Monday asserted upon his last day in Springfield, which the world, at least, has not yet heard of, and upon the outcome of which the world is interested.

The special car in which he traveled from New York reached the National station here Monday.

Hundreds of persons, among whom were many officials and a sprinkling of reporters, were on hand to greet the travelers.

President Diaz's greeting was conveyed through one of his official family, the meeting between the two most talked of men in the republic having been deferred until later.

Sheriff Limantour asserted that the statement that he was the bearer of conditions for the establishment of peace, placed in his hands by the Madros in New York, was an absurdity.

Of the insurrection itself Sonora Limantour had nothing to add, he said, to what he had previously said, that it constitutes treason.

LINCOLN RELIC IS BURNED

Private Car Which Carried Martyred President From Washington to Springfield is Destroyed.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The historic Lincoln car, the private traveling carriage of Abraham Lincoln and the car that carried his body from Washington to Springfield, Ill., for burial in 1865, was destroyed by a fire that swept Columbia Heights, burning every bit of dry dress in the neighborhood part of the car and setting fire to the crate in which the car had been boxed.

Scores of women and children turned out to fight the fire with buckets of water and brooms. Fragments of ruins of the historic car will be saved as mementoes by Edmund G. Walton, manager of Columbia Heights Land company, its owners.

"KID" MCCOY WINS DECISION

Heavyweight Pugilist Returns to Ring and Gains Popular Verdict Over Jack Fitzgerald.

Philadelphia.—In a dull and uninteresting fight, Kid McCoy won the decision over Jack Fitzgerald in a six-round bout at the American Athletic club. Although McCoy landed the most of the blows and displayed the greater knowledge of ring generalship, he did not come back to his old form at any stage of the bout. It was a very close fight in the first rounds that won him the verdict of the spectators.

OPEN LARGEST DAM

GREATEST RECLAMATION PROJECT IN WORLD SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED.

COLONEL IS HONORED GUEST

Cheering Crowds Congratulate Former President to Whom is Due Honor of Starting Project—Roosevelt Makes Principal Speech.

Roosevelt, Ariz.—Amid the cheers of thousands assembled to witness the formal opening of the largest dam in the world, the Roosevelt structure across the canyon of the Salt river, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, under the direction of her father, touched the button that sent the imprisoned waters of the Arizona river rippling through the vast system of canals that will transform this sun-baked construction town and 200,000 acres of shifting desert sand into a veritable Garden of Eden.

The arrival of the Roosevelt party, who motored seventy-five miles across the desert to attend the ceremonies, was a signal for wild hilarity among those assembled to witness the event.

The cheering crowds pressed about the little group of prominent state and government officials to offer thanks and congratulations to the colonel, to whom in a great measure was a signal for wild hilarity among those assembled to witness the event.

These ceremonies mark the successful termination of one of the greatest reclamation projects the world has ever seen. They mean the reclamation of miles of burning desert, the termination of years of toil under the blazing Arizona sun, and the addition to Arizona's farming lands of a territory whose productive wealth will equal that of the most favored farming districts of the world.

For countless ages the principal stream of Arizona, the Salt river, swollen to torrential proportions. In the spring by the melting snows of the distant mountains and diminishing to a tiny creek under the blazing sun of summer, has wound its tortuous course through hundreds of miles of sun-baked desert land that needed but the application of water to blossom into luxuriant vegetable life.

The waste of this rich territory was called to the attention of Colonel Roosevelt when he occupied the presidential chair, and he, in turn, ordered the government's reclamation department to investigate.

This, in brief, is the story of the great Arizona reclamation project, as told by the many speakers who followed Colonel Roosevelt at the dedication exercises, each of whom paid enthusiastic tribute to the prosecution of the project by the engineers in charge and the support and interest of Colonel Roosevelt that made the scheme practicable.

HOUSE IN FAVOR OF RECALL IN CITIES

Also Votes for Initiative and Referendum.

COMMISSION FORM TO RULE

Bill Reduces the Salaries of Commissioners, Which It Is Expected Will Make Plan Popular in the State.

Madison.—The house voted in favor of giving the cities of the state operating under a commission form of government the right to adopt the principle of the initiative and referendum and the recall. Several such cities want the right to initiating and approving ordinances and recalling commissioners who fail to make good.

The author of the pending bill is Judge Julius Gilbertson of Eau Claire, whose home city has adopted the commission form of government.

The bill reduces the schedule of salaries for commissioners, which is expected to induce a larger number of cities to adopt the commission form. The assembly killed a bill empowering cities operating under a commission form to readopt the old charter form of government.

The senate will act on the Roycroft resolution for an investigation of lobbyists Tuesday. This resolution has already gone through the house. Since the resolution was introduced the activity of the "third house" has fallen off appreciably.

Secretary of State James A. Frear sent an official communication to the Wisconsin civil service commission in which he notified that body that he has accepted the opinion of Attorney General Bancroft as to the constitutional doubt of the commission being a legally constituted body in relation to the bills of the commission and in effect means that the secretary of state will not treat the will of the legislature as a law.

The matter will no doubt be tried out in the courts. In his communication Secretary Frear invites the cooperation of the commission to arrive at a decision.

The senate committee on education decided to report out a bill which extends the time of the university regents to a six-year term. This is one of the measures of the special education committee and is in part an adoption of the plan submitted. The committee rejected the bill which removes women members of the board.

There was not a quorum present in either house at the morning session. The past week has been easily the most strenuous of the entire session, especially as committee work was piled up by reason of the invasion of Madison by the suffragists. The senate is nearly cleared up with its work, but the assembly is still far from being "cleared."

Renewing the efforts of two years ago to obtain the passage of a law for certified public accountants with a state examining board, the organized accountants of Milwaukee were represented before the assembly committee on state and economic matters when the Mortenson bill came up.

The bill provides for an examining board which shall issue certificates to accountants after examination. Herman E. Georger, former member of the assembly, spoke for the bill. There is so little opposition to it this year that the committee is expected to favor the bill.

The bill extending greater discretionary power to the state board of dental examiners, Theodore Kronshage, attorney for the board, and E. Patzer, its special examiner, appeared on the bill, as did Dr. W. H. Hardy of Milwaukee, member of the board.

Dr. John B. Andrews' bill for the reporting of occupational diseases to the labor commissioner will be recommended for passage by the assembly committee on public health and sanitation. There was no opposition to the bill when it came up.

The bill requires physicians to report to the labor commissioner all cases coming to their notice of lead, phosphorus, arsenic or mercury poisoning or compressed air illness.

The object of the bill is to make it possible to compile statistics on the extent of these industrial diseases.

Senator Linley created a stir by his observation that it "seemed queer" that the tax commission should be a sharing on the petition of the Manitowoc Northern Traction company for authority to increase its fare between Manitowoc and Two Rivers from five to ten cents. The company had agreed to the smaller fare, but found that it could not make money and was granted authority to increase the fare to ten cents.

The assembly committee on taxation held a postponed hearing on the bill to permit the city of Superior to tax railroad terminals, which occupy one-third of the acreage of that city.

WISCONSIN BREVITIES

The terminals are now taxed by the state as a part of the various railroads entering Superior, under the ad valorem laws. Senator Linley declared that with a tax rate nearly three times as high as other cities in the state, Superior is having a hard time to keep its population.

$600,000 to State in Inheritance Tax. Judge M. S. Sheridan ordered that the sum of $39,971.31 be paid by the heirs of the estate of W. H. Tifford, the New York financier, as the inheritance tax for 12,000 shares in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

Attorney General Bancroft expressed satisfaction at the agreement reached on the state claim, which, he said, was all that the state was entitled to. The recent settlements of inheritance tax claims are an indication of how important the tax is to the state in adding to its revenues. Since the 1st of January, under the direction of the attorney general's department, settlements with four estates have added about $135,000 to the state's revenues, and the total income from the inheritance tax this year by April 1 will exceed $600,000, Mr. Bancroft says.

From the Kennedy estate, New York, the state receives $355,000; from the Simmons and Jessup estates of Kenosha, $95,000 and $12,000, respectively, and now from the Tifford estate, New York, about $140,000. The Marshall Field estate has still to pay. This is a very large estate and a large part of it is in Chicago & Milwaukee, Chicago & Northwestern, Omaha and other Wisconsin corporations. It is understood that the attorney general's department is already engaged against this estate.

State Growth in Sugar Production. Under the new census of cane and beet sugar establishments, the state of Wisconsin which, in 1899, produced so small an amount that it was included in a group of states, has a separate classification. The total value of her sugar production in 1909 from four establishments was $1,395,000 against $33,000 in 1904. Granulated sugar was valued at $1,249,000 and molasses at $68,000, an increase in the latter produce from $19,000 five years before.

The number of establishments engaged in the manufacture of beet sugar in the state increased in the decade 117 per cent.; the number of acres planted in beets increased 207 per cent.; the quantity of beets produced, 359 per cent., and the average production per acre, 61 per cent.

Advertising Wisconsin.

Grandly Co. Register.—Quite a generalized audience gathered at the opera house last Friday evening to hear the talk on Wisconsin. A number of views were shown and an interesting talk was given by Hon. John P. Lamont, who entertained his audience with a brief account of the productivity of the soil, and the natural resources of the state.

He informed his audience that Wisconsin ranked up close to the front in agricultural and dairy farming. That in the past few years his state had wonderful progress in this direction. Land today can be bought in northern Wisconsin for from $10 per acre and upwards. If interested in this country write the Wisconsin Advancement Association, 108 Washington St., Chicago, Ill., for full particulars.

Wisconsin in the Lead.

(Chicago Farmers' and Drivers' Journal, Jan. 17, 1911.)

Wisconsin has become practically the leading dairy state of the union, its title to the leadership being disputed only by New York, with the dairies in Wisconsin's favor. The output of dairy products has increased from nothing a few years ago to a value of $78,000,000 in 1910. This tremendous increase in our industry alone indicates the position which Wisconsin will assume in the future in the agricultural economy of the country. It is already one of the foremost of all states in the production of all sorts of various grains and grasses and vegetables, and it is rapidly coming to the front in production of fruit, especially apples and cherries.

Taking the official figures from the Crop Reporter issued by the Department of Agriculture, we find that the results in the comparative production per acre of important grain crops are as follows:

Among the twenty-five states producing 25,000,000 bushels or more of corn during the ten year period ending 1910 Wisconsin stands fifth; the leading state, Ohio, exceeding Wisconsin by only 2.4 bushels per acre, Indiana by 1.5 Illinois by 1.3 and Pennsylvania by 1.1.

Among the nine states producing 10,000,000 bushels or more of barley during the ten year period ending 1910, without irrigation, Wisconsin stands first.

Among the sixteen states growing 10,000,000 bushels or more of oats during the ten year period ending 1910, without irrigation, Wisconsin stands first.

Among the seven states producing more than 1,000,000 bushels of spring wheat during the ten year period ending 1910, without irrigation, Wisconsin stands first.

Among the eight states producing 10,000,000 bushels of potatoes, or more, during the ten year period ending 1910, Wisconsin stands second, led only by a state using an enormous amount of commercial fertilizer.

In the unsatiated, unexplored regions of Wisconsin, heretofore considered only a field for the operations of the lumberman, are hundreds of thousands of acres of land, with a rich fertile soil, ample rainfall, pure drinking water and a geographical location that cannot be surpassed so far as ease of reaching the big central market is concerned, and these rich lands, lying right at the door of Chicago, are crying aloud for settlers, dairymen, farmers, live stock breeders and feeders to come and occupy them.

County Sanatoria Bill.

Madison, Wis., March 21.—The first hearing before the committee on charitable and penal institutions of the assembly on the Yonimus bill which gives to counties the authority to erect and maintain county institutions for the care of tuberculosis patients, was characterized by the lack of opposition to the measure. Another hearing will be held this week, when, it is expected, the committee will be unanimous in its endorsement of the bill.

That part of the bill which provides state aid for counties of $3.00 per week per patient, with an annual limit of $30,000, must go to the finance committee for final action. It is not believed, however, that even half that amount will be used in the first two years.

Dr. J. W. Gooen, superintendent of the state sanatorium at Wausau, was the principal speaker before the committee. He showed the necessity of more institutions for the care of consumptive patients, and the need of the eradication of the disease is to be made. Dr. Anna J. Frisbie and Dr. P. H. Lindsay of the state board of control were enthusiastic in their support of the measure. Miss E. L. M. Tate, state organizer of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association, and Assemblyman Clark of Oshkosh also spoke in favor of it.

Many assemblies are receiving letters from interested constituents. To make the passage of the bill certain, every citizen of the state who wishes to do his share in the white plague fight is being urged to communicate with his assemblyman and senator.

Announcement of Candidacy.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of county superintendent of schools and if elected will perform the duties of that office to the best of my ability. Maudie E. Seals.

HOARD IS USUALLY RIGHT.

It is perhaps eighteen or twenty years ago that W. D. Hoard first advocated at farmer's institutes through out the state the use of the silo. He preached its merits through the paper, the Dairyman, and talked silo at every farmers' gathering he was called on to address. His last year, however, was ridiculed; called impractical, a fad, and many went so far as to argue that the product of the silo was called on to be sold. The position the silo holds with the farmer today is too well known to require any comment. Was Hoard right or wrong on this question?

About a dozen or fifteen years ago Hoard imported some alfalfa seed into the state. Like the silo he first tested it out on his own farm. Two or three years, or until he became convinced that it was a good thing for the Wisconsin farmer. Then he commenced talking alfalfa through his papers and at every public meeting of farmers with which he came in touch. Again they ridiculed and scoffed, but that didn't deter Hoard from continuing his sermon on alfalfa. What do the farmers think of alfalfa today? Again was Hoard right or wrong?

For years Hoard has urged the farmers to raise thoroughbred stock, to at least head their herds with thoroughbred sires. He had preached to them that it cost no more to raise a good calf than a scrub. He urged the use of scales and Babcock test to weed out the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called. To all this the farmers said "bosh!" and declared it was "book farming," impractical and some of the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called. To all this the farmers said "bosh!" and declared it was "book farming," impractical and some of the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called. To all this the farmers said "bosh!" and declared it was "book farming," impractical and some of the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called.

About ten years ago Hoard began investigating the tuberculosis test. He tested his own herd, at his own expense. He continued to experiment; spent his own time and money in making a careful and thorough investigation of the test throughout the country wherever the test had been used. The result was, that he became its enthusiastic supporter. He continued to test his herds every year, and did it for years before there was any thought of a law covering the question. He has tested his herd for the past ten years, and during the last two years, twice a year, in spring and fall. He says the test is all right. Now the question is, is Hoard right or wrong? What do you think about it, in view of the stand he has taken on this question touching the welfare of the dairyman?—Elk River Independent.

Nomination Papers a Farce.

The Balsam Lake Ledger suggests a plan for nominations that might work alright, if the entrance fee were not made too high. The editor says: "We believe, and always did, that nomination papers should be done away with in the primary law, and each candidate required to pay a fee to the county for a county office and so much into the state treasury to enable him to have his name placed on the state ticket as a candidate for a state office. It would be practically as cheap for the candidates, besides giving the county and state a fund upon which to draw to pay election expenses. Nomination papers are a farce. They make liars of men. Voters will sign for one candidate—and vote for another. They will sign a candidate's papers oftentimes to please a friend."

Better Roads Suggestion.

Instead of leaving their fortunes to colleges, churches and hospitals, the wealthy men of Wisconsin will in a few years to come be building first class boulevards and providing an endowment for their repair and care, if the news of the day can be relied upon to indicate the trend of matters of this kind. Within the last year or so numerous notices have appeared telling of splendid public highways to be built by private means in various parts of the country and Wisconsin is no exception in this forward movement.

New York and New England have long enjoyed the benefits of a number of splendid highways constructed by private enterprise, and an announcement recently made that the J. I. Case Co. of Racine would construct a drag road between Milwaukee and Chicago, a distance of fifty-five miles, of great interest to the farmers of not only that section but the state, as it establishes a precedent for other public spirited citizens who are interested in the development and welfare of the state. This Chicago-Milwaukee road is to be a drag log road, which system of road building has been found most efficient in the sandy soil of that part of the state.

Another road project that is attracting much attention at this time is the "Lakes to River" Auto Road. Although this is designed especially for automobiles, it will naturally give the farmers a fine thoroughfare, the expense of building being undertaken by the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called. To all this the farmers said "bosh!" and declared it was "book farming," impractical and some of the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called. To all this the farmers said "bosh!" and declared it was "book farming," impractical and some of the "boarders" and the unprofitable cows are called.

As this thoroughfare should prove as attractive to tourists as the famous "Lakes to River" Auto Road, it would bring thousands of people from Chicago and the south to Wisconsin lake country every summer. This road is headed by a high grade animal if not a pure-bred stock right or wrong?

About ten years ago Hoard began investigating the tuberculosis test. He tested his own herd, at his own expense. He continued to experiment; spent his own time and money in making a careful and thorough investigation of the test throughout the country wherever the test had been used. The result was, that he became its enthusiastic supporter. He continued to test his herds every year, and did it for years before there was any thought of a law covering the question. He has tested his herd for the past ten years, and during the last two years, twice a year, in spring and fall. He says the test is all right. Now the question is, is Hoard right or wrong? What do you think about it, in view of the stand he has taken on this question touching the welfare of the dairyman?—Elk River Independent.

Farmers to Cooperate.

To encourage the building of solid concrete silos by the farmers of Wisconsin, the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin is organizing so-called "cooperatives" or building circles, consisting of a number of farmers in a community to whom the college offers to lend moulds necessary for the construction of these silos.

A number of sets of forms of different dimensions have been built by the department of farm engineering of the agricultural college. These will be lent to the farmers for a small fee to cover the cost of transportation, and the services of a representative of the college, who will start the first silo in a community and explain the method of construction.

As it takes about two weeks to construct a solid concrete silo of the average size, five or six silos may be erected in a community in the course of a summer. The new plan is expected to encourage the construction of permanent silo building, as well as to demonstrate to farmers the advantages of co-operation in enterprises of this sort. Applications have already been received for the organization of a number of circles in different parts of the state.

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

Saturday afternoon C. Oksnee's store had a narrow escape from fire when a kerosene stove in a room back of the main part of the store exploded and scattered a gallon of burning oil around the room. Mr. Oksnee ran to the door when he saw smoke pouring in through the cracks and an alarm was immediately turned in, the fire department appearing quickly on the scene and in a few moments the flames were subdued.

At about noon Sunday fire broke out in the basement of the old wood room from some unknown cause, the fire having spread to such an extent and the smoke being so dense when the discovery was made that the origin could not be determined to any certainty. Both mill and village fire departments responded quickly to the alarm and succeeded in confining the damage to the wood room basement, where a quantity of spruce stock in a tank there was rendered worthless and belting, etc., burned and destroyed.

O. D. Billings started up the lower ferry Tuesday morning, but was obliged to abandon it that evening it being in poor condition for safe crossing. PITTSVILLE (From the Record.)

The city authorities are doing some excellent work again this spring with the road drag on the city's streets. The condition of these roads exemplifies the good work that can be accomplished with these things at a small expense. The time ought to be short when a road drag will be the property of every individual farmer for use along the lines of his lands.

As soon as Mr. Austin leaves the building he now occupies, it will be occupied by Mr. Woodworth for the postoffice. The Wells land office will be made use of for a jewelry shop, and the building to be vacated by Mr. Woodworth, it is understood, has been spoken for with the intention of putting in a restaurant and candy kitchen.

The Moon Healer Coming This Moon.

—On April 1st I will again come to Grand Rapids to relieve all who have been unable to find relief elsewhere. I am sorry to see so many operations for gall stones and appendicitis, as it is just like cutting a man's hand off for the daily laborer is doing to sustain life for himself and family. It is merely cutting off the little God given appendix, for the good that it is trying to do, it is overtaxed, trying to rid the body of some ailments, which would take place had not the appendix worked so hard to keep the aliment away. I will again offer one hundred dollars for any case that I cannot cure as long as the patient is able to come to me. No medicine, no knife.

Remember we sell furniture on monthly and weekly payments when desired, a good reasonable payment down balance on easy payments. J. R. Ragan, Spafford Building, East Side—April 12.

There is no school in District No. 1 this week as Miss Pittz is sick with a hard cold. —Vote for Will H. Guilford for County Superintendent.

VESPER.
The village of Vesper might have been the scene of a real live holdup last Friday morning, had it not been for the unblinking eye of Cashier Jones of the Vesper State Bank in peering of his gun and making the would-be bad men hold up their hands until they were captured by the village constable, Ed. Planagan. Whether the tramps would have held up the bank, or would have attempted to do so, will never be known, but they were a bunch of bad eggs, judging from their looks, and any thoughts that they might have had about that line were nipped in the bud. It seems that several tramps had been hanging about in this locality and on Thursday they looked over the town, some of them bawling from house to house, and during their rounds one of them visited the home of Cashier Jones, who lives over the bank. The next day one of them appeared at the bank and asked for money, and being refused, he commenced to get fresh, and the result was that Mr. Jones pulled out his gun and commanded him to hold up his hands. Just then another of the tramps pushed into the muzzle of Mr. Jones's revolver, his hands were also taken with an uncontrollable desire to touch the collar. After the men had been secured the sheriff at Grand Rapids was notified and Undersheriff Welsh came out and got the three men. When they were arraigned next morning before Justice Brown a vagrancy charge was made against them, to which they plead guilty, and they were each given thirty days in the county jail. The morning after their arrest the men seemed peaceable enough and made the state of mind before the court that they had been so drunk the day before that they did not know what they were doing. Whether they were drunk or sober, they were three bad looking pills, and the community is better off with them in jail than running at large. The village of Vesper needs a little cleaning up this spring and a few finishing touches in the way of some sidewalks in front of the new buildings that have been constructed during the past year, and we will have as fine a little village as can be found anywhere, with much brighter prospects than many of them have. A lot of work has been turned out at the foundry of late. From thirty to thirty-five men are working right along and the result is that a lot is being accomplished. Among the other work that is being done is the making up of twenty of the new car couplers, which are the invention of a Marshfield man. These couplers have been manufactured in small lots of several dozens, and a number of them are being tried out on different roads, and they are giving good satisfaction. Should they ever come into general use the manufacture of them would keep a large plant in operation, as each coupler weighs something over two hundred pounds. The Vesper Wood Manufacturing Company now employ a stenographer in the person of Miss Charnley, who has been employed at the Rapids during the past year by the Oberbeck Mfg. Co. This company is prepared to get out in the neighborhood of five hundred stiles during the next summer, they already having orders for a goodly number. The company constructs a stile as low in price as $129.00 and from this on up as high as they want them, according to the size. The company recently received a large shipment of Oregon fir, which is gotten out as long as the stile is high and is without a knot or blemish in it, and should prove excellent for the purpose intended. Several of our citizens are figuring on the purchase of an automobile the coming summer, although they have not definitely decided on what they will buy. When our new hotel is entirely completed we will have accommodations for a large number of transients. In fact the village will be better equipped along this line than many a larger place. —Vote for Will H. Guilford for County Superintendent.

ARPIN
Song service 10:30. Sabbath school 11 a. m. The organist says she will come every Sabbath in the future. We miss her when she doesn't come. We have had quite a change in the weather but the fall grain is covered with snow and I don't think it will freeze hard enough to kill it. Winter wheat looked good. Alfred Gronowicz and Louis Strack left Vesper for Milwaukee. Alfred is going to buy a team of horses having sold his team for drivers. The cream dealer for the Vesper Creamery bought one. Wonder who will get the first ride. Louis is going down to see his father about making arrangements to buy Joe Blungshy's farm. Mr. Palmer of Ashcroft was a visitor at the John Kurtz home the past week. He says he was up in these parts twenty years ago and didn't expect to see so much improvement. He says it is something wonderful. Among the many shoppers in Grand Rapids Saturday were Misses Edna Swartz, Mary LaVigne and Nettie Grimm. Miss Moody of Grand Rapids stopped off at Vesper. Bert Mann is home from Pittsville high school, having broken his collar bone. We did not learn the full outcome of the caucus at Hansen Saturday. We do know Bean was not nominated 23 to 32. Never mind Bean if you didn't get the nomination we will be at election to elect you. We did not know you had any opposition. Don't believe you have. I hope the voters will look well into what Bean has done and not take the word of someone who can't make Bean come his way for some personal reason. Go to him and he'll show you what he did on the county board, and why he did it. Vote for him, boys, you can't beat him for chairman. We are held up as a town that is changeable, or easy to change. Don't let us change this time as our chairman has just got started to see into the way to get things to come our way.

Witter, assisted by Mrs. Guy Nash on the piano and Dr. W. O. Blanchard. The piece is one of unusual merit and should be heard by all lovers of music. Service commences at 7:30. —The seat sale for "The Lion and the Mouse," without doubt one of the greatest successes produced in the last several years opens Saturday, April 1st. All classes of theatre goers seem alive to the fact that the engagement will prove one of the most interesting ones in a long time and intend taking advantage of witnessing the play which in vital interest excels in every way. E. F. Deyo of Port Edwards, who has conducted the Port Edwards hotel for several years, was a caller at this office on Thursday. Mr. Deyo has sold out recently to Mr. L. J. Dornkomper of Willow City, N. D., who takes possession May 1st. Mr. Deyo has also sold out his livery, barber shop and millinery building to Messrs. Herman and August Zurbahn, and in the exchange becomes the owner of the Zurich farm at Elm Lake. Mr. Deyo has not fully decided on his future plans, but expects to locate elsewhere.

ELECTION NOTICE.
TO THE ELECTORS OF WOOD COUNTY.
Notice is hereby given, That an election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts in the County of Wood on the 4th day of April, 1911, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column.
Information to Voters.
The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters. A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his or her name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk, which must have endorsed thereon, the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving such ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. If the voter wishes to vote for a person for a certain office whose name is not on the ballot, he or she must write the name in the blank space under the name of the candidate for the office. The ballot should not be returned marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memoranda to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown to that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter. After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerk on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his or her name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, and hand him the ballot to be placed in the box and pass out of the voting place. A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he or she is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he or she is unable to mark his or her ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if the voter declares that he or she is totally blind the said voter may be assisted by any person chosen by him or her from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability. The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:
